Comtech Telecommunications Corp. Receives $1.0 Million Contract for High Power Amplifiers

MELVILLE, N.Y., Oct 5, 2004 (BUSINESS WIRE) -- Comtech Telecommunications Corp. (Nasdaq:CMTL) announced today that its New York-based subsidiary, Comtech PST Corp., has received a contract valued at approximately $1.0 million for broadband, high power RF microwave amplifier systems from a prime U.S. defense contractor.

These amplifier systems are used in both U.S. Navy and Marine Corps communications and jamming applications. These systems, which utilize the latest in solid state technology, provide for very broad frequency coverage with smaller and lighter equipment. Delivery of the power amplifier systems are expected to begin in March 2005 and be completed by July 2005.

Fred Kornberg, President and Chief Executive Officer of Comtech Telecommunications Corp, said "This award illustrates the continuing demand for Comtech's RF microwave amplifier products in the defense market. It serves as another example of how our products assist the U.S. military in fulfilling critical mission requirements."

Comtech PST Corp. (www.comtechpst.com) is a leading independent supplier of broadband high power, high performance RF microwave amplifiers for use in a broad spectrum of applications including high power instrumentation, defense, medical, and satellite communications systems.

Comtech Telecommunications Corp. designs, develops, produces and markets innovative products, systems and services for advanced communications solutions. The Company conducts its business through three complementary segments: telecommunications transmission, mobile data communications and RF microwave amplifiers. The Company offers niche products, systems and services where it believes it has technological, engineering, systems design or other expertise that differentiate its product offerings.
